A colorful illustration depicting a Western scene. In the foreground, three figures are riding horses. On the left, a Native American man with a feathered headdress and a beaded necklace rides a white and brown spotted horse. In the center, a cowboy in a brown hat and a red star-patterned bandana rides a brown horse. On the right, a man in a tan hat and a red jacket rides a grey horse. The background shows a desert landscape with red soil, small green bushes, and a prominent butte under a blue sky with light clouds.
